Dublin Certificate in Evidence based Joint Injection

Overview of the course

Through blended learning, this module aims to:

- Provide evidence-based recommendations around the principles, practice and techniques for joint and soft tissue injection therapies for people with rheumatic musculoskeletal disease (RMD)
- Prepare participants to expand their skills base with respect to the use of injection therapies for people with RMD
- Advise participants to work within their respective scope of practice when administering prescribed injection therapies
- Emphasise a person-centred approach to healthcare delivery

This module is intended as an educational resource and does not constitute an assessment of clinical competence.

This course is an exceptionally valuable and well-delivered programme. It combines clear, evidence based teaching with practical, hands-on training that has already enhanced my confidence and competence in performing joint injections safely and effectively.
